Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Our website includes statements and information about our expectations for the future. There are a few key things to understand about Forward-Looking Statements contained in our website. Firstly, they typically include words and phrases about the future, such as believe, estimate, budget, anticipate, expect, plan, intend, predict, goal, target, forecast, project, scheduled, potential, strategy and proposed, variations of these words and phrases and statements that certain actions, events or results “may”, “could”, “would”, “might” or “will be taken”, “occur” or “be achieved” or their negative connotation.
